Six Bullets Pumped Into GC Hoodlum

Body of Eldon Keel, 29, Found Jammed in Auto On Road near Caseyville

Authorities of Madison and St. Clair counties are seeking the murderer of Eldon Eugene Keel, 29, of 1619 Delmar avenue, ex-convict who bullet-riddled body was found about 1:30 p.m. Saturday on the front seat of his car along a lonely section of the 8600 block of Bunkum road near Caseyville, in St. Clair county.

Keel, who had been dead several hours, had been shot four times in the chest, once in the neck and once in the left shoulder. The bullet that went into his neck had pierced his right ear and he had a hole through his left hand, which he apparently had put to his chest as he was being shot.

Joseph Rodriguez, chief investigator for the St. Clair county sheriff's office, told the Press-Record that he also is searching for the murderer and is trying to trace Keel's movements after he left home about noon Saturday, driving his super-sports coupe.

There was only a small bloodstain in Keel's auto, where his body had been jammed behind the steering wheel. Such force that the directional turn signal lever had been bent down to the steering column.

He said Keel was dressed in slacks, a sport shirt and a brown leather jacket. He was wearing no shoes on him, although five .38 caliber bullets were found in a jacket pocket. The bullets, which were removed from his body by St. Clair county coroner, Dr. C. C. Kane, Dr. Kane said the slugs had hit Keel's head and another had pierced his lungs.

Keel's auto was first seen Tuesday along Bunkum road at 8 p.m. Saturday, but it was not until 11:30 p.m. that two state troopers stopped to investigate. They first thought the man behind the wheel was asleep, but quickly discovered he was dead.

Added by Granite City police and Madison county authorities, Rodriguez began immediately to look for known associates of Keel. By 3 o'clock the word had spread, and he could only locate about five or six. None of them knew anything," he added. "We did hear that when he left home."

2 GC Men Killed in Tennessee Sackup

Bill Harris, Larry Holly Shot by Attendant in Chattanooga Station

Shot and killed in a service station holdup attempt near Chattanooga, Tenn., about 10 a.m. Friday were two Granite City men, Billy Harris, 20, and his companion, Larry Holly, 21, both of 1720 Madison avenue. Holly had lived here five months at the Harris home after moving from Robinson, Ill.

Authorities at Hamilton county, Tenn., said the men drove a car to the side of the station and left the motor running while they went inside. Holly pulled a .22 caliber pistol on the attendant, Lawrence Ed. Hemborg, who was working the attendant, asking for a package of cigarettes.

Holly removed the stickup and attempted to flee. He placed his hand in his shirt as though reaching for the money, but instead pulled out a .25-caliber automatic and shot Holly in the neck and leg. Harris was shot in the chest as he lunged toward the attendant, authorities said.

This table is based on the Illinois general sales tax of 3 1/2 percent plus the city and county sales tax of 1/2 percent. It shows the amount of tax to be paid on the net sales price of the goods or services sold. The tax is added to the net sales price to determine the total amount to be paid by the customer. The tax is not levied on the net sales price of the goods or services sold.

Pontoon Village Decides to Join In Sewer Project

With his vote favoring participation in the Nameoki Township sewer construction program, Thomas Stalcoff, president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board, broke a 3-3 deadlock Thursday night at a special meeting of the trustees.

Voting with Stalcoff for inclusion in the sewer project were Tony Jackson, Larry Enns and Harold McBride. Negative votes were cast by Chester Dean, Otto Kroger and Robert Springer.

Prior to adoption of an ordinance which requests sewerage service be provided through the township's construction program, trustees heard the results of a survey on the proposition taken among area residents. Stalcoff said that 240 Pontoon Beach residents were contacted by a special survey team composed of Dean, McBride and Enns, and that 119 want the sewers, 83 were against it and 38 were undecided.

$1,891,364 Hike in GC Building During '64

Sewage Plant, Industry
Construction Lead Way
To $6,445,779 Total

New construction in Granite City during 1964 continued healthy upward trend as building permits totaled $6,445,779. The figure topped any total during the 1960's and was $1,891,364 greater than the 1963 figure of $4,554,415. The previous high mark during this decade was 1961 with $5,919,000.

Earl Bloomquist, building inspector, and City Clerk A. L. Stevens issued a total of 854 permits, in addition to others for razo structures at a cost of $46,470.

Last year, 638 permits were issued, but the big boost this year came as a result of a major hail storm last spring which damaged the roofs of most buildings in the city. The totals this year could be higher, however, as a long moratorium was placed on building permits for roofs and gables, and these costs were not included.

Commercial-industrial construction accounted for nearly 50% of the building activity with values totaling $3,728,885 compared to $2,784,281 last year. The total does not include the city's new sewage treatment plant started last month at a cost of $1,295,163. Its new West Granite fire house started in September at a cost of $46,740. The West 22nd street Baptist Church started in October at a cost of $40,000, not for additions to the Wilson elementary and Prather junior high schools started in May at a cost of $158,590.

Major Projects
Some of the major projects were the Coleman and the Home started last January at a cost of $400,000; General Steel Industries' expansion, totaling $197,000; $183,000 and $131,000; A. O. Smith expansion at $184,000; North expansion at $124,000; A. B. E. Holt auto agency expansion at $187,000, and the new Young & Greenwald factory building at $33,530.

None of the multi-million dollar expansion program announced recently by Granite City Steel Co. is yet included.

64 New Homes
Permits were issued for 64 new homes listing total values of $1,189,166, including several

Jaycees Present 46-Seat Bus to YMCA Senior Citizens

Granite City Jaycees ended their observance of National Jaycees Week Saturday afternoon with a ceremony for the official presentation of a 46-passenger bus to the YMCA Senior Citizens Club.

The ceremony at 2 p.m. took place outside the city's main fire station, 23rd street and Madison avenue, with Paul Morris, Jaycees president, giving the keys to Mrs. Corinne Rupp, president of the senior citizens group.

Morris told the senior citizens and others gathered for the presentation that after the bus' wheels were worn down to the axles by the senior citizens' trips, "We'll buy you another one."

In accepting the keys, Mrs. Rupp said Granite City's group of young men was most thoughtful of the senior group, and that the bus would solve a major problem in the senior citizens wanting to travel on field trips to museums and other points of interest. "We'll be able to expand our activities," she added.

The group then boarded the bus for a police-escorted parade through Granite City, ending at the YMCA where coffee and doughnuts were served.

Also taking part in the ceremony were Mayor David H. D. Karandjoff, president of the YMCA; Alvin Barnes III, co-chairman of the Jaycees bus project; Rev. Keith Stanford, president of the Quaker City Ministerial Association; and Rev. John Franklin of St. Elizabeth's Church.

apartment houses. In 1963, 63 new homes were listed at a cost of $857,190. The biggest month for home construction was October with 11 at a cost of $400,000, including the 80-room Pontiac Plaza apartment house costing $130,000. The highest was August when three permits were issued with values of $35,096.

A double jeweled crown secured the bride's tiered veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and white roses on a crescent of green leaves.

Miss June Oberdieck was maid of honor, serving with six bridesmaids. The latter were Miss Glenda Hertz, Miss Sharon Hoxton, Miss Sheila Kolack, a cousin of the bride, Miss Kathy McDonald, Miss Linda Whitton, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Charles Mideyett. They were dressed in gowns of georgette over taffeta with bell skirts and boat necklines trimmed with matching satin which formed a self trim bows with floor-length streamers in the back. They were cherry pink and avocado, the colors alternating in the processional.

All of the maids held French bouquet bouquets on green velvet leaves to match their gowns.

Little Tammy Bergeheimer and Mack Hadley were flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl was a small version of the older girls. Her flowers were pink roses.

Gene Sine was best man for Mr. Whitten, and the corps of groomsmen and ushers included Blake Finch, Tom Jones, James Rucker, Martin Siglock, Charles Voloski, the bride's cousin, Don Wachman, Harold Hoxton and Conrad Moeller.

Sousa Memorial Concert Thursday by GCHS Band

The second concert of the current season, given by the 120-member Granite City high school concert band, will feature music by John Philip Sousa and will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium.

In connection with the John Philip Sousa Memorial concert, the Granite City High School Band Parents Association has voted a contribution to the Sousa memorial fund for a band stand to be placed in the National Cultural Center in Washington, D.C. to honor the world-famous band master and composer of American band music.

The memorial fund has been established by the American Bandmasters' Association. Band Director Louis E. Meek has selected eight compositions by "The March King" for Thursday night's concert.

The Sousa marches will include—"The Black Horse Troop," "Semper Paratus," "Nobles of the Mystic Shrine," "George Washington Bicentennial" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Other Sousa selections will be "Three Quaintations," the "President Polk," "The President's Suite," "Looking Upward," which is made up of "By the Light of the Polar Star," "Beneath the Southern Cross" and "Mars and Venus."

The closing selection by the band will be Noel Coward's "Till See You Again."

Admission is by season ticket, or tickets may be purchased at the door for $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Farmers May Seek New Farm Feed Grain Bases

A new farm grain base may be established under the 1965 feed grain program for farmers who did not plant feed grains in 1959 or 1960 that meet eligibility requirements. Lee Rogers of the county ASCS office announced today.

To be eligible for a new farm feed grain base, Rogers said the operator must expect to receive 50% of more of his livelihood from the current year on the production of agricultural commodities on the farm; must have had at least two years' experience in the production of feed grains in the last five years; must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains; the land must be suitable for the production of feed grains; and neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain base has been established.

Interested producers who can meet these requirements should contact the county ASCS office before March 1 and file an application. Rogers said.

A farm for which a new farm feed grain base is established under the 1965 program. However, such farm will qualify for price support loan or purchase agreement if the total feed grain acreage is within the base acres and conserving use requirements have been met.

Election, Major Problems Facing Council

Important issues continue to face Granite City council members who also are racing headlong into an upcoming city election. The council is to meet at 8 o'clock tonight.

At last week's session, several persons in the jam-packed audience, expressed amazement at the council members' jibes and the quacking of controversy. The council members themselves attribute it to the political season and write it off as "a time for grandstanding." Seven aldermen are seeking re-election, and at least five council members might be entered for the mayor race.

Still pending is an agreement with Granite City Steel Co. on abandoning streets in the "mill" area where portions of the firm's $140,000,000 modernization and expansion program are to be carried out.

Also, a detour is to be designated for southbound Madison avenue traffic between 16th and 19th streets where the steel firm is to relocate a city trunk sewer line from inside plant property and at the same time remove old trolley tracks from the three-block area. It is to be one of the first steps to prepare for start of construction work inside the plant along Madison avenue about March 1.

Last week, a city permit was obtained to erect construction buildings for the project at 16th and Madison avenue. Another permit was issued for the firm to raise old houses along East 19th street.

Other issues remaining before the council include the possible loss of fire department tax revenue because the Cloverview Holiday Gardens and a portion of the Glenview subdivision are in the Long Lake fire district.

Still hanging fire are the much-debated $175 printing bill for Alderman Betine's profile booklet that was turned down last year by David J. Johnston & Associates for engineering services. The council has called for a breakdown by projects and costs. Johnston had based the bill on the amount allocated for engineering.

A resolution for renewal of the motor fuel tax engineering contract with Research Planning and Design Associates also is due for presentation.

There is a possibility the Special Pollution Abatement committee will renew its effort to overcome the mayor's veto of a resolution calling for new bids for the sewage treatment plant filter equipment. Upgraded specifications in the equipment manufacture has been recommended by local industrial engineers.

Metro Police Training Class Delayed Until March

The initial training course for members of the proposed two-state metropolitan area police squad has been postponed to March 1. It was announced last week by University City Police Chief James P. Damos, board chairman.

It was to start on Monday, but the postponement was caused by the large number of policemen nominated for the squad. A total of 266 applications was received and about 50 more are expected. About 100 policemen are to be selected for the first class to be trained at the St. Louis Police Academy. Nominated from the Granite City department are patrolman Frank Harris and Detective Michael Divine.

agricultural use and is not permitted under the ordinance, but that it should be. He added that the definition of a farm should be based on the use of the land, and that the Farm Bureau committee with this idea.

C. A. Nicolet, committee chairman and Godfrey township supervisor, said a meeting with the noble home association will be held in February and that the committee will begin drafting amendments as soon as possible.

Public Hearing

Jack Clifford, zoning administrator, said it may be possible to hold a public hearing in March after the amendments are drafted. They then would be presented to the board of supervisors for approval.

Kaseberg said the amendments would be designed to broaden the base of the zoning ordinance upon which the committee, zoning administrator and the board of appeals would work, and to clarify the law in the mind of the public.

The zoning ordinance has been in operation two years, and Kaseberg said about 260 hearings have been held by the appeals board, and that only three or four decisions have been appealed to the circuit court.

He noted that only one other general amendment has been made to the ordinance. It concerned mining and mineral rights.

Kaseberg said 'supporters of zoning would be urged to attend the public hearing on the amendments and that they be as vocal as the opponents have been in the past. "We want a constructive, not a destructive hearing," he added.

Attending the conference were

Kaseberg, Clifford and Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City township supervisor; Roy Hulbe of Hannibal, William Straube of Edwardsville and Jerome Klein of Collinsville, all members of the zoning committee.

Pontoon Water District Refinances Bond Issue

A refunding bond issue in the amount of $285,000 has been sold by the Pontoon Beach Public Water district to the Chicago Bonding firm of Monard, Shivers & Murray under an interest schedule that will save the district approximately $120,000 in interest costs, according to William Beatty, attorney for the district.

The new bonds—a revenue issue similar to that originally sold when the district began operation in 1958—will draw interest on a graduated scale starting at 4% as of Jan. 1, 1966, and increasing over a 33-year schedule to a maximum of 4 1/2%. The old bonds carried a flat interest rate of 4 1/2% per year over a 33-year schedule. The original bond issue which will be refinanced with the new bonds was held by the U.S. Government's Housing Finance Administration. None of the principal of the original issue had been retired, Beatty said, since the first of the bonds to mature in the original issue was dated Jan. 1, 1965.

Beatty said a principal purpose of the refunding plan is to provide the district with more funds for eventual expansion of the water district. Savings created under the new bond schedule will allow more rapid development of sufficient reserve to finance improvements, he said. Publication of the legal notice of the bond refunding is printed in this issue of the Press-Record.

Interest payments over the entire refunding schedule total $228,856, which added to the $153,856 the total cost of the new issue.

Right-of-Way

struction anytime the city can obtain the right-of-way."

At this point Bergfeld complained of a "slowdown" by the title company in completing title reports, apparently because of a $10,000 bill incurred in handling 100 different title report requests. Bergfeld said he understood the company wanted to be paid before it proceeded further with title work. Gasparovic concurred in this opinion, but Kronek replied that he did not believe this was so because the highway department has done a lot of work with the company and there would be no reason for it to delay title reports.

The engineer did bring out the fact, however, that requests for 100 title reports had been involved in the original bill. "If 49 appraisals were needed, why were there requests for 100?" he asked.

Will Check Records

Nonn answered that he had only been on the Street committee six weeks and that he was not aware of the details but the records would be checked. Gasparovic pointed out that it is possible the 100 title reports included sections for the second phase of the, Nameoki road widening which extends southward of Madison avenue and is not involved in the current project which provides for widening and improvement north from Madison avenue past shopping centers to the city limits.

Kronek responded, "This isn't the problem. This matter can be worked out. Our immediate problem is getting this job done and we can't do that until the right-of-way is obtained. An adjustment can be made for the title company bill. Those things can be handled later, and I personally will talk to Mr. Kronek and see what can be done about speeding up the 14 title reports that are needed so that negotiations can go ahead for the right of way."

Townsend asked Nonn if attorneys handling the negotiations (George Filloff and John Githoff) needed help so that the work could be undertaken at a more rapid pace.

"We have offered all of them help but they turned it down," Nonn replied.

Suggests More Help

Townsend suggested the city council determine if the negotiations could be disposed of more quickly with additional attorneys on the job, and that Messrs. Filloff and Githoff be paid more for the case, more help be provided.

"The council will go along with anything that needs to be done to complete this job and if more help is the answer we'll see that they get it," Nonn replied.

Status of one parcel of ground at Fishling road and Cleveland junior high school entered the discussion when Gasparovic explained that this particular tract will have to be placed in condemnation because of the legal battle over ownership of the ground. Kronek suggested that action be taken on the parcel immediately. Gasparovic reported that there are two other tracts involved in current negotiations which may go into condemnation.

Chatman, at this point, explained that he was attending the meeting as a property owner to determine why no one in his particular neighborhood had been approached concerning their property. Gasparovic said that the property in question was involved in the title reports

George Borchers, 62,
Dies; Ill One Year

George H. Borchers, 62, of 2626 Sheridan avenue, died at 8:45 p.m. Saturday in St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been a patient six weeks. He had been ill a year with cancer.

Mr. Borchers was an electrician for Nisco Steel Barge Co. for 45 years. He was a native of St. Louis and lived here 27 years. He was a member of Niederrhein Methodist Church and the United Steelworkers Union.

Survivors include his wife, Corrine; three stepsons, Jack and Charles Harper of Granite City and Earl Harper of Norfolk, Va.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Kenneth (Margie) Edelson of Dallas, Tex.; a brother, Arthur Borchers of Granite City; two sisters, Miss Clara Borchers and Mrs. Frank (Irene) Koehnman, both of St. Louis; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the title and trust company.

Five Weeks for Contract

In response to a question from Mathias as to the time involved in completing the Nameoki widening, Kronek and Ailes pointed out that from the time all right-of-way becomes available, it would require five weeks to the letting of a contract. Both engineers agreed that "even if we were to start today" the project as it is now planned could not be completed by the end of this year. Kronek said that it is possible a "speed-up" clause could be inserted in the specifications to provide for completion of at least one of the concrete strips for use later in the fall, although it would have to be restored in the spring. Handling of traffic over the road while it is being improved, due to lack of a parallel road for a detour in the area, is a delaying factor, it was pointed out.

On a suggestion by Townsend that a timetable be established for completing the right-of-way work, both highway and city officials agreed that establishing a deadline would aid the attorneys considerably in their work. The 30-day time limit was decided upon to set a March 1 deadline, with agreement to place in condemnation all parcels not obtained by that time.

Gasparovic pointed out that appraisal reviews and title work still remain to be done on 21 parcels of right-of-way needed for improvement of the intersection of Patton road and a section of Patton road westward from Nameoki road to the county pavement. This job has been estimated at $75,000 and would be financed with the city's motor fuel tax funds.

Kronek said he did not believe the work on these parcels should interfere with the Nameoki road project and that if necessary the existing plans could be revised to include the intersection work, requiring the additional parcels of right-of-way, in another section of construction so as not to tie up the Nameoki project.

After agreeing upon the deadline of March 1, Kronek told the group that "I think the thing you should do now is pressure your city attorney to get to work on these negotiations. I think that with all the publicity given this project the citizens will be public spirited enough to negotiate without much difficulty, and perhaps this could be cleaned up quicker than I think." Nonn said that he will talk to the city attorneys and "if necessary we will call a special meeting to appoint more help" for Filloff and Gasparovic. Anything it takes to get this job done, we'll do."

Changing Values Confront Families

What concerns Quad-City parents? Do schools expect too much from parents? Do parents expect too much from schools? Not those whose children have extreme problems, but the parents of normal youngsters. Are these parents and their offspring sometimes bewildered by changing times and values?

The topic is being explored in discussions being held at the YMCA at 7:30 p.m. each Monday. Parents are welcome to attend tonight or on future Monday nights to listen and also to express views they feel would help other parents.

Through its family relations program, the YMCA also is making available thought-provoking suggestions on how families can chart their way through the hazardous "growing up" years, ending hardness and maturity to be achieved.

Current Concerns

The question of what concerns local parents can be answered by comments already voiced. Solutions are being sought, but defining of issues is regarded as at least a major step toward successfully resolving them.

Topics that have been discussed include: Current dance fads. Manner of dress. Hair styles. Smoking. Homework.

Lack of communication between parents and teenagers. Religion and teenagers. Ways through which the YMCA and others could enlist more cooperation and participation by parents. Discipline and teaching of self-discipline.

Philosophy to follow in raising children — how to punish? Youngsters' need to join groups of their own choosing. "Why" of rebellion. Relationships — quality vs. quantity.

Sex education — should a physician talk to junior high groups? To parents?

Are youngsters joining too many organizations? Should they go out in the evenings, and when should they return home? Is there more effective means of assuring that children supervised by attending an activity are there until its conclusion?

Should there be "black plans" to increase the safety of young pedestrians?

THE ASTOR SPEAKS

REV. EDWIN CHAISE
Good Shepherd Evangelical United Brethren Church

The Gospel of Matthew reads Jesus saying, "Let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven."

He often hear people say, "What can I do? I have no influence." They assume a defeatist attitude before they even begin. I think they should recall what one spoiled apple does to the bush. It does not always take great numbers or influential individuals to make a difference.

In the sphere of heavenly bodies, we find a great planet in the amount of light given. Yet, neither the overwhelming greatness of the sun in providing light and warmth for us in the day, nor the moon's light by night, can lessen the usefulness of the lesser lights—the stars.

Each Has Responsibility

This is also true when applied to our life. Each person is a light of his own—that is, each has his own responsibility. I think of the various fields of activity. In the military there have been great leaders—Alexander, Caesar, Washington; but they would have been forgotten except for the men they fought under them.

In business, a Rockefeller's success is made possible by the success and labors of the Christian field, such "lights" as Peter, Paul, Luther, etc., have shone, but here, too, millions of lesser

Deceptive Medicare Plan Could Lead To Full Socialization Of Medicine

Will the cure be worse than the disease? The manner in which the federal government proposes to "solve" medical-hospitalization costs is causing considerable concern, especially in view of two poll results: most people favor "medicare," thus giving the administration a mandate to proceed; but most citizens also do not have a clear idea of what it is.

The limited hospitalization insurance plan expected to be voted on by Congress makes a minimum impact, but would erode the "foot in the door" for financing through the Social Security system.

The basic plan would be so faulty that the American Medical Association appears to have logic on its side in predicting the "improvement." It could be pointed out after medicare becomes a reality that everybody is paying but only those 65 and over are being aided; why not treat young and old alike? It could be pointed out that medical and surgical payments are excluded; why not correct these omissions? It could be brought out that both rich and poor are getting equal benefits; why not give more of the same? Certainly, the existing Kerr-Mills law does not solve all problems, even though many states have not let it function effectively because they wanted to build up public pressure for enactment of the King-Anderson bill. But it seems clear that some solution could be achieved without setting the nation irrevocably on the path to full socialization of medicine. And many now striving to achieve the link with Social Security might not be so eager if they realized that this could and probably would grow someday to rival the income tax in size, if it is burdened with medicare.

Humanity and compassion require help for those who are retired and have no way of earning enough to meet huge, unexpected medical-hospital bills. But unless Americans read the fine print, they may find that the price committed to the increased proportion of the drift to socialism and simultaneously sabotaged a profession that has made huge strides in research and care, as reflected by the greatly lengthened average life span. If such gains were halted, the supposed "cure" for 1965 hardships would reap a tragic harvest in future years.

Will people here and elsewhere consider all ramifications of the issue and then communicate their thoughts to their senators and representatives in Washington? It might not be too late, even now.

Green Light For City Plan, Zoning Code Modernization

Approval of updating of the 1957 comprehensive plan and 1958 zoning code is a step forward for the city of Granite City.

With federal tax funds included, direct local contributions will amount to only $4885, or a third of the total. Benefits are likely to be far greater, in terms of improving land use records and controls, and more effective planning for future growth and services.

State Bills Affecting This Area

County Civil Service

House Bill 22—Redmond. Provides for establishment of a civil service commission for the county of Madison. Employees of counties with a population of 30,000 or more but less than 50,000.

House Bill 23—Redmond. Provides that the sheriff in counties with a population of 30,000 or more (now one million) shall maintain a division to be known as the County Police Department; deputy sheriffs serving such a department to be selected by a three-member County Police Department Merit Board.

House Bill 26—Hachmeister. et al. Additional appropriation of $240,000 for expenses in connection with the at-large House election.

Non-Violable Crimes

House Bill 27—Gardfield, et al. Amends the Criminal Code to specify the crimes of murder, manslaughter, kidnapping, and ransom where proof of intent or presumption is great and the offender is charged as non-violable.

House Bill 30—Prohibits the use of force for intoxicating purposes, and regulates the sale of alcohol.

House Bill 32—Leon, et al. Amends the Criminal Code to provide for a person convicted of transmitting to a fire department a false alarm, knowing there is no fire and having no reasonable grounds for believing that a fire exists. Previous law provided for a maximum sentence was six months.

House Bill 33—Danzon, et al. Amends election code to provide for voting machine in school 20,000 or more population. Each election precinct having more than 400 registered voters would be required to have one voting machine for each 400 voters or fraction thereof. The machines would be supplied by

Inadequacy In Campus Condemnation, Record Keeping Or Interpretation

Press-Record articles on Coolidge junior high school campus ownership have not answered all possible questions. The issue is the mysteries still exist. But they have provided background information for school district residents, who will be affected by the outcome of the lawsuit.

Aside from the obvious question of setting a legal precedent, the complex case offers little consolation for school district residents, who could reasonably expect to have to pay only once for land to be used for school purposes. The fact that a second purchase may be necessary reflects inadequate handling of the 1953 condemnation or its written record at some point along the way, or improper court interpretation of what was done.

A positive result of the controversy may be increased recognition of the wisdom of the current practice, which is to keep school legal work from becoming a political patronage pawn. Skilled counsel essential for $7,000,000-a-year governmental agency during all its business and procedural deliberations.

Farsighted Stands Taken By Area Labor Groups

The solid backing they have accorded Madison county zoning and their reaffirmation of the ten-point construction code speak well for the citizens and forward-looking organizations of the Quad-Cities, Madison county and surrounding territory.

As pointed out last week by a wide cross-section of region officers, meaningful zoning regulations are important not only to property owners but also to businesses considering locating in a community; unless the latter can be attracted, and unless existing industry can be encouraged to expand, insufficient job opportunities result.

Renewal of the 1958 pledge by building trades and contractors assures fair work procedures during the great building boom in local history. This in turn assures the largest possible volume of construction, in later years as well as the immediate future.

Anyone who doubts that language changes rapidly need look no farther than the 50 Years Ago column in the Press-Record. Frequent references to holders of major fraternal offices as "supreme dictators" indicate that the latter word did not have the same connotations in the teens as it does in the '60s.

Much State Legislation Affects Quad-City Area

Under the heading of "State Bills Affecting This Area," the Press-Record is describing on this page some of the legislation which has been filed in General Assembly action today. The service will continue throughout the session.

Many bills will not be mentioned because they have little or no relation to the Quad-Cities. Those which are listed will have varying degrees of importance to local residents. But it is already apparent that a considerable number could have a direct and significant impact on this community.

Examples are mandatory voting machines, elimination of unemployment system financing, legislative redistricting, state taxation, authorization of industrial development credit corporations, removal of the names of deceased persons from voter registration rolls, funds for crime investigation, more or less complete curbing of the public school tax, development of Parks Metropolitan Airport, codes of ethics to curb conflicts of interest, expansion of civil service at the county governmental level, regulation regarding employment practices rulings, court and parole revisions, curbs on narcotics traffic and creation of county police departments.

Many more issues will arise, some destined to be enacted and others to fall by the wayside. By familiarizing themselves with what is proposed, Quad-Cityans will be in a position to keep their representatives informed of their views, aiding the legislature in writing the best possible record in 1965.

The FORM

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed. Letters will be accepted for consideration only if they are given preference. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Letters with obvious mistakes or lacking in good taste or fair play will be rejected or edited.

News From The Files Of The GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

JANUARY 26, 1915

When Hayden McKay of Mitchell was rescued from drowning after he had broken through the ice of Long Lake while skating, it was found that he was suffering from an added trouble—a turtle had a firm grip on one leg.

McKay and a Mitchell woman were skating together when they suddenly came upon an air hole in the ice. McKay pushed the girl to one side, but could not save himself and plunged through. The icy water numbed him so that he could neither pull himself out nor hold onto the edge of the hole.

The girl screamed for help and rescuers came to McKay's aid. To their surprise, when they drew the boy out on the ice, they found the turtle had a grip on his leg. The captured turtle was kept as proof of the story.

MORE ABOUT

Six Bullets

he was going to see another ex-convict in Madison county. Keel had on his person only about 40 or 50 cents; his wallet contained only identification papers. He was wearing a hat, Fred Minton and Patrolman Frank Hinton went to an East St. Louis funeral home to make identification.

Rodriguez said he believed one person did the shooting, emptying a .38 caliber weapon into Keel, but that it took two or more to place him in an auto.

It appears that one person drove Keel's auto to Bunkum road, with another following in a second car with the body. A resident of the area saw Keel's car and saw the headlights of another pull away from behind it about 8 a.m.

The area of Bunkum road where the car was abandoned has been searched along one side, and Keel's auto was several hundred feet away from the nearest home. It was about 1000 feet west of Route 157.

The notorious Collinsville road strip also is only a short distance away.

Police are not expressing any possible motive for the crime, other than that Keel had a number of associates, and they point to his long arrest records at Quad-City police departments and in both Madison and St. Clair county.

Keel served time for burglary and larceny at Menard state penitentiary from 1954 to 1959 after receiving a 5-to-7-year sentence. He also was charged in Madison with armed robbery in 1953.

In 1949 he was arrested for car theft by the state highway patrol in Missouri and was found a violator of the federal juvenile delinquency act.

His arrest record here also includes fighting, peace disturbance, disorderly conduct and, on Oct. 17, 1953, he pleaded guilty and was fined in Madison for attacking a police officer. In Belleville, he was found over to the St. Clair county grand jury on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and possession of burglary tools.

Keel was born in Dover, Tenn. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Keel, two brothers, David and Charles, and a sister, Mrs. Ted (Joyce) Kotoff, all of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

SWIU Department of Nursing Ok'd for Federal Tax Funds

Southwestern Illinois University's department of nursing has qualified for federal tax funds aid under the Nurse Training Act of 1964.

Mrs. Margaret Shay, department chairman, said a preliminary review of the SWIU program by the National League for Nursing led to approval under terms of the federal act administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The NLTN is the agency designated by the government to recommend nursing programs for participation in the federal act.

The law provides tax fund grants for construction, addition of staff, traineeships for professional nurses, and loans to students.

SWIU has a four-year degree program in nursing with central offices in East St. Louis. Student nurses get their clinical experience at St. Mary's Hospital and Christian Welfare Hospital in East St. Louis, at the East Side Health District, and in licensed day care centers and nursery schools of the area.

The Nurse Training Act, passed last year, authorizes appropriations of $253 million over a five-year period to help provide larger numbers of better qualified nurses.

Mrs. Shay said construction funds under the federal law would not be available until July 1965, but applications for traineeships, student loans, funds for meeting the cost of increased enrollment could be made immediately.

SWIU Professor Heads Kentucky 'War' Camp

James D. Turner, former director of Southwestern Illinois University's East St. Louis center, has been named director of a $10,700,000 project to open Camp Breckenridge, Ky., as a theater of operations for President Johnson's "war on poverty."

Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, has been designated operator of the project. SIU will be assisted in the 18-month program by the University of Kentucky and the General Electric Co.

The old world war II training center in western Kentucky will be peopled with 2000 young men who have the "subculture of poverty" riding on their backs. About 400 staff members will try to change the youths' outlook on life and learn marketable skills.

Camp Breckenridge is 75 miles east of the Carbondale campus. Turner is a professor of higher education at SIU.

220 Crimes Reported to Madison Police in '64

Criminal offense cases totaling 220 were handled by the Madison police department during 1964, according to an annual report prepared by Police Chief Emmett Padia.

No murders or manslaughters were included during the year. There was one case each of rape and attempted rape, both of which were cleared; seven robberies, two of which were cleared; 51 assault cases, 44 cleared; 55 burglaries, 35 cleared; 16 larceny cases of $50 or more, three cleared; 74 larceny cases of $50 or less, 23 cleared; and 15 auto thefts, five cleared.

The report showed that 962 persons were booked, including 332 on uniform traffic tickets. The figure does not include investigations, arrests for other departments and business applicants.

The department handled 52 juvenile offenders, 41 of whom were referred to its youth officer. There were 365 traffic accidents in the city involving two fatalities and 60 injuries. The humane officer handled 426 dogs, and there were 53 dogbite cases.

Collinsville to Act This Evening on Sewage Agreement

The city council of Collinsville is scheduled to act tonight on a revision agreement for commitment of the city's participation in the sewage treatment program of the East Side Levee & Sanitary District.

Revisions were made by levee district officials last week following a special meeting of the city council to discuss all provisions of the commitment, under which Collinsville would tie into the levee district outlets with its own trunk line sewer and pay the levee district an annual use fee.

Participation of Collinsville in the sewer treatment program is the contingency upon which several communities, including Madison and Venice, base their continued affiliation with the levee district in the sewage program.

John Sprague, levee board attorney, said the most important revision was including the lower monthly use rate of .90 cents-$1.25-$1.80, depending upon water usage, in the Collinsville contract. The earlier contract set a rate of $1.60.
